

Sermon Ideas

Clergy have their own unique way of sermon preparation and delivery. With that understanding and appreciation, the following suggestions are given as ideas.

John 11:25- I am the resurrection and the life.

I Corinthians 15:35-58 – The spiritual body.

These texts could be used to teach about the resurrection, emphasizing that the physical body is transformed into a spiritual body, therefore the gift of organ and tissue donation does not affect the ability of one to be resurrected.

Luke 6:31-38- Give to others and God will give to you. This text could be explored as the command to give to others and the various ways that we can give, including the giving of our organs and tissues through donation.

Romans 8:28-29- Seeking the good. This scripture could be used to show that in the midst of tragic circumstances of sudden death, God seeks to find good with us. Donation may be one sign of good in an otherwise senseless death.

John 3:16-17- God gave His Son. God gave his son so that we might live in eternal life. We can give our organs and tissues when we no longer have need of them so that others may live in this temporary world.

Luke 14:12-14- Giving without reward. In this scripture, we are told to give to those who are in need without thought of reward from them. The need for organ and tissue donation is great.

Genesis 2:26-31- Responsible power. In the moment of our creation, we were given power over all things. Responsible use of power includes using our bodies to give life.

SACRED TEXTS THAT CAN BE USED WITH ORGAN AND TISSUE DONATION

Transplants are not specifically mentioned in most sacred texts because they are a very recent development. The timeless content of the texts speak to donation in principle. The following references can guide our thinking and actions on organ and tissue donation.

Hebrew Bible

Genesis 2:20-30 Bone transplant: A rib taken from Adam to give life to Eve

Leviticus 1:7 “Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.”

Deuteronomy 30:15-20 “Choose life so that you and your descendants may live.”

Psalms 8 “How majestic is your name in all the earth!”

Psalms 41 Images of a healing Lord

Psalms 100 Psalm of praise and thanksgiving

Psalms 107 “Consider the steadfast love of the Lord.”

Psalms 111 “I give thanks to the Lord.”

Psalms 113 Praises to the Lord

Psalms 116 “O Lord, I pray, save my life!”

Psalm 145 “The Lord is gracious and merciful.”

Psalm 147 “Sing to the Lord with thanksgiving.”

Ecclesiastes 3:1-17 “For everything there is a season. . .”

Isaiah 35:1-6 “Strengthen the weak hands and make firm the feeble knees.” The eyes of the blind shall be opened.”

Isaiah 40:31 “But those who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength. . . they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint.”

Ezekiel 37 The valley of dry bones: “These bones shall live.”

New Testament

Matthew 5:7 “Blessed are the merciful.”

Matthew 7:7 “Ask . . . seek. . . knock.”

Matthew 7:12 “In everything do to others as you would have them do to you. . .”

Matthew 25: 31-46 Caring for the stranger

Luke 4:16-21 “. . . recovery of sight to the blind.”

Luke 6:37-38 “Give and it will be given to you.”

John 3:16-17 “God so loved the world that He gave . . .”

John 10:10 “I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly.”

John 15:12-17 “This is my commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you.”

II Corinthians 9:6-8 “Each of you must give as you have made up your mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.”

1 John 4:11 “Beloved, since God loved us so much, we also ought to love one another.”

Revelation 21:4-5 In eternity we will not need our earthly bodies: “Former things will pass away, all things will be made new.”

Zen Buddhist Sacred Texts

(The following was sent by Reverend Madeline Ko-i Bastis, a Zen Buddhist from the Peaceful Dwelling Project in East Hampton, New York.)

“Zen Buddhists do not generally rely on text references. However, the ‘Jataka Tales’ are ancient stories/myths/accounts (depending on the branch of Buddhism) which set down the Buddha’s purification journey through many lifetimes leading to his incarnation as Shakyamuni and his enlightenment. Selflessness and generosity are the hallmarks of these stories and it is within these tales that can be found many references which are applicable to organ donation, including the story of the tigress, upon which I based my message. There may be suitable references in the ‘Middle Length Discourses of the Buddha,’ but . . . these are more important to those practicing the Theravadan branch of Buddhism.”

From the Jewish Rabbinical Assembly

“It is not merely permissible for a Jew to bequeath his organs for transplantation following his death; it is a Mitzvah for him to do so, in order to save one life, or several lives.”
